

We promote the British Values by creating an ethos of inclusivity and tolerance where views, faiths, cultures and races are valued. Children are encouraged to listen to each other and treat others how they would like to be treated

The manager is committed to the active participation and involvement of all children, parents, staff and other partners so that each child can be effectively included

All staff are developing their skills to communicate effectively with each child, whilst encouraging children to develop ways of communicating with each other

It is demonstrated through attitudes and behaviour, how unremarkable it is that disabled children are part of the local community

Everyone is Welcome

We seek out and listen to feedback from our parents and outside agencies

Each child has a chance to express their views on their play experiences and our environment

A commitment to change practice and attitudes and adopt a positive 'can-do' approach

We have a clear vision of what we want to do and how we plan to achieve it

At Little Sparrows Day Nursery we have an 'open door policy', therefore, if you have any questions or concerns at anytime, please do not hesitate to come and talk to Cheryl or a member of staff.

littlesparrowsdaynursery@outlook.com

Every parent is to feel welcomed, valued and encouraged to work in partnership with our practitioners

We constantly reflect and evaluate our practice, the environment and learning outcomes to ensure we are providing inclusive and exceptional care and education which meet individual needs

Every parent is to feel welcome, valued and encouraged to work in partnership with our practitioners

Children's interests lead their play and activities take into account their likes, dislikes and access support requirements